Bon Island Reef clean-up report

Evason Phuket, 16 and 31 August 2007: Evason Phuket & Six Senses Spa invited both guests and hosts to clean-up the resort's own reef at Bon Island's on two occasions in August 2007.

A reef clean-up consists of removing parts of the reef that are not meant to be there! Plastic, aluminium, glass and abandoned fishing gear were targeted - items which takes years to degrade. Underwater reef clean-ups are a great way to protect the marine environment.

Both hosts and guests joined the reef clean up in conjunction with professional help from the Phuket Marine Biological Centre, Green Fins and Poseidon Dive Centre. Everybody was provided with gloves, scissors and nets to collect the garbage. A briefing about the reasons of the reef clean-up and the process was given before starting the
